Location of Ikebukuro

*Ikebukuro / Toshima City

Toshima is located toward the northwest in central Tokyo's 23 'special wards', and boasts the highest population density of Japan. Ikebukuro Station, in particular, is metropolitan Tokyo's largest transportation hub, with some 2.5 million people utilizing it each day. Toshima welcomes a diverse array of people. As the city develops, this includes many young people, who have transformed Toshima into a wellspring of creativity, culture and expression.

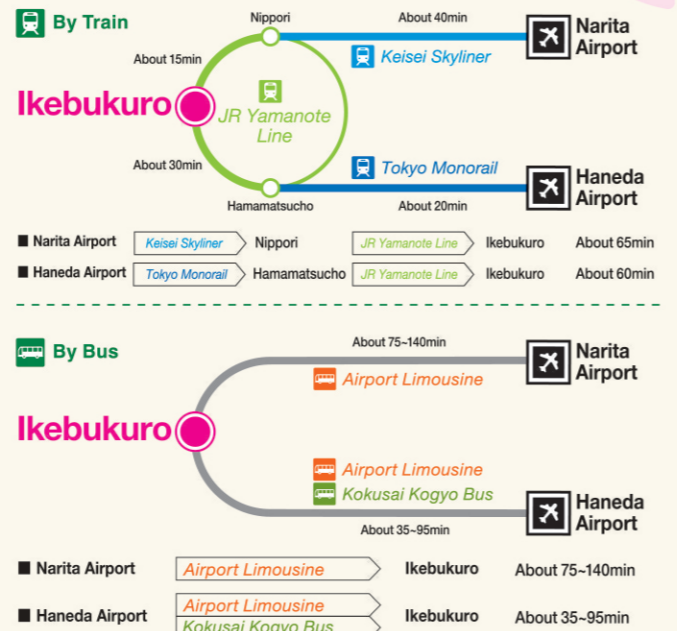

*The Otome Map Characters

Toshima is shaped like an owl spreading its wings. It's also said to be the birthplace of the Someiyoshino cherry tree (one of the most famous breeds of cherry blossoms). Fittingly, Someiyoshino cherry trees provided the design inspiration for the female Otome Map character, while an owl motif provided the inspiration for the male character.
